

Keystone Park

Keystone Park was an amusement park located on North Keystone Avenue where the current Keystone Roller Rink sits. It was started by the Waverly, Sayre & Athens Traction Company. The entrance fee was five cents; trolley riders was free. The park was owned by the trolley company.

The amusement park opened for all on July 9, 1908. Keystone Park was designed to entertain all. The park included amusement rides such as a roller coaster, carousel, amusement games including shooting booths, a dance hall, food stands, theater, and pavilion.

Keystone Park faded away by 1920.

